Subject Archives

Medicine Archive

The Medicine Archive is an authoritative resource of 89 journals, revealing how medical research and practice has changed over the course of more than a century. It covers a variety of fields, from oncology to cardiology, neurology to epidemiology, and reproductive medicine to gerontology. These influential journals include Brain, which has published landmark papers in clinical neurology and translational neuroscience since 1878. The Medicine Archive features articles by exceptional figures such as Alexander Fleming, Rita Levi-Montalcini, and Francis Crick.

Science Archive

An essential addition to any science library, the Science Archive features leading titles in life and biological sciences, including molecular and computational biology, as well as mathematics, statistics, physics, and computing. It features three journals of the Linnean Society of London, which provided a platform for the epoch-making papers on evolution by Charles Darwin and Alfred Russel Wallace.

Humanities Archive

Encompassing 68 journals across history, literature, philosophy, religion, art, and music, the Humanities Archive is a valuable resource for any library. It enables scholars to discover new perspectives on a variety of topics by uncovering the academic thought of the past. This includes the journal of the Aristotelian Society, one of the oldest and most prestigious philosophy societies. The Proceedings of the Aristotelian Society has published the first-rate papers delivered at society meetings since 1888. The Humanities Archive also features key figures writing about their predecessors, such as C. S. Lewis writing about Jane Austen.

Social Sciences Archive

The Social Sciences Archive features 49 distinguished journals across a variety of fields, such as economics, politics, and sociology. It enables scholars to see how theory and policy have changed over more than a century. This includes International Affairs, a journal of international relations edited at the prestigious Chatham House, London, which since 1922 has published papers by leading figures such as Mahatma Gandhi. The Social Sciences Archive includes The Quarterly Journal of Economics, the oldest professional journal of economics in the English language. Since 1886, this pre-eminent journal has featured articles by John Maynard Keynes, George Akerlof, and N. Gregory Mankiw, as well as the 2017 Nobel Prize-winner in Economics, Richard H. Thaler.

Law Archive

The Law Archive enhances current understanding by enabling researchers to track changes in regulations, knowledge, and opinion over more than 60 years. As well as important papers in legal studies and international law, the Law Archive encompasses specialized areas such as human rights, medical law, and environmental law.

1. Previously known as Bulletin on Alcoholism (1963-1967), Journal of Alcoholism (1968-1976), and British Journal on Alcohol and Alcoholism (1977-1982)
2. Previously known as Bulletin of the Entomological Society of America (1955-1989)
3. Previously known as The Annals of Occupational Hygiene (1958-2016)
4. Previously known as Computer Applications in the Biosciences (1985-1997)
5. The successor to Proceedings of the Linnean Society of London (1839-1968)
6. Previously known as AIBS Bulletin (1951-1963)
7. Forest & Conservation History (1957-1995) and Environmental History Review (1976-1995) merged in 1996 to become Environmental History
8. Includes Southern Journal of Applied Forestry (from 1977), Northern Journal of Applied Forestry (from 1984), and Western Journal of Applied Forestry (from 1986)
9. Includes early version: Publications de Circonstance (1903-1925)
10. Previously known as American Zoologist (1961-2001)
11. Previously known as the Computer Bulletin (1995-2005)
12. Previously known as the Journal of Gas Chromatography (1963-1968)
13. Previously known as Proceedings of the Malacological Society of London (1893-1975)
14. The Journal of Gerontology began publication in 1946. In 1988, the journal became The Journals of Gerontology which contained four parts. In 1995, The Journals of

- Gerontology was split into two separate publications: The Journals of Gerontology, Series A: Biological Sciences and Medical Sciences, and The Journals of Gerontology, Series B: Psychological Sciences and Social Sciences
15. Previously known as Bulletin of the IGPL (1993-1995) and Journal of the IGPL (1995-1996)
16. Previously known as IMA Journal of Mathematics Applied in Medicine & Biology (1984-2002)
17. Previously known as Sabouraudia (1962-1985) and Journal of Medical and Veterinary Mycology (1986-1997)
18. Previously known as the Journal of Electron Microscopy (1953-2012)
19. Neurosurgery began publication in 1977. It also includes access to Clinical Neurosurgery (from 1955)
20. Previously known as FEMS Microbiology Immunology (1988-1992) and FEMS Immunology & Medical Microbiology (1993-2012)
21. Previously known as Protein Engineering (1986-2003)
22. Previously known as Systematic Zoology (1952-1991)
23. Previously known as Fundamental and Applied Toxicology (1981-1997)
24. The successor to Transactions of the Linnean Society of London (1791-1955)

Key Services for your library

DIGITAL PRESERVATION

Arrangements with CLOCKSS,
LOCKSS, and Portico

TRAINING RESOURCES

Including user guides, webinars, and
in-person training

TOOLS FOR RESEARCHERS

Integrated searching via PubMed and Google Scholar, and access to content on-site or remotely

FLEXIBLE PRICING

Subscription or perpetual access options for institutions or consortia
of any size

SIMPLE CONTROL

Manage multiple subscriptions
via one online
account

USAGE MONITORING

COUNTER-compliant usage
reports all in one place
